Important Information

Dear Parents & Carers,

On Friday we start our month of teeth brushing. As I said before, many children across the country have exceptionally poor oral hygiene and poor dental management. Slough has one of the worst dental records in the country and if I can be forthright, I am not surprised as I often see pupils with rotting teeth in the school. Local dentists inform us that the children they see, have such bad rotten teeth that their tooth socket is damaged even before they get their adult teeth. The good news is that it is easy to look after your teeth by eating less sugar and brushing all over for two minutes.

Therefore, in October each pupil will receive a toothbrush and dry brush their teeth every day straight after lunch. They will brush for two minutes while following a fun and engaging character brushing their teeth. The aim is to establish a routine that will become habitual:

- they will dry brush for two minutes
- they will learn to brush all their teeth well

Please click this link to watch a useful video, which we would be grateful if you could use this at home as well <https://youtu.be/CmZp1wdJAw4>

Friday is also the start of Black History Month. We do a lot to support the representation of black achievement within our curriculum. We also talk about this as staff and bring this straight into the classroom. This year we have made a conscious effort to embed the achievement of black men and women more implicitly into the curriculum. For example, in science we have ensured that the contributions of black scientist are recognised and discussed. We will ensure this month has an extra focus in black history in our PSHE lessons, but our goal is to challenge perceptions and learn about the contributions made. We ask you to do the same at home.

GREAT NEWS!!! We have recently been accepted onto the Microsoft Showcase and Incubator school program. This is a great achievement as we had to share how our school had incorporated digital technology with our school, our lessons, and our community. We have a long-term plan to support learning through technology and being part of this program will really help and support our journey. We hope to share more about this with you over the next two years as we work with the Microsoft Team.

I hope you have a lovely week ahead.
