Important Information

Dear Parents & Carers,

Welcome back and I hope you all had a lovely half-term break.

It is Diwali on Thursday 4th November - Diwali is a festival of lights and one of the major festivals celebrated by Hindus, Jains, Sikhs and some Buddhists. On this special occasion, we will be having a non-uniform day and we would like to encourage as many of the children to wear traditional clothes.

We would love to see what you and your families get up to for Diwali and show our children. Moreover, we would love to have one Sikh parent and one Hindu parent film a short video explaining what Diwali is and how they celebrate it.

As Diwali and Bonfire night are the day after each other, there is no doubt that there will be a lot of beautiful and colourful fireworks going off. Please let this serve you as a reminder to be SAFE when dealing with and around fireworks.

We are aware that any change to the school day will have positives and some setbacks. Please can we get through the week and review...if you have any issues please let us know on Thursday. Thank you for your patience, we too would like nothing more than to return to the way things were.

Just a quick reminder that any parents can park in the parent car park.

In other news, we are taking part in Mental Health Month during November. This is to really place emphasis on why our mental well-being is important and ways to support us through positive mind framing, exercise and connections with our spirituality.

Lastly, we will be saying goodbye to Miss Brian this week as she embarks on her maternity leave to rest before the arrival of her first baby. We wish her and her partner all the best and look forward to hearing about the new arrival.
